

De-Fi Report (24-08-2020) By FAT PIG SIGNALS

General News : We have seen another bullish week in the De-Fi space as TVL (Total Value Locked) has increased from 6.25b to just under 7b; we have seen some other events and news updates from certain protocols showing increased adoption, notably, more bitcoin being wrapped this week than there were mined (6785wbtc/5738btc); In short, Bitcoins are being tokenized on Ethereum faster than they are being mined

LEND (aave): Our Top gainer of the week has been LEND (aave) , which has seen a 45% increase in price(up over 210% from our recommended buy), mostly due to the announcement of AAVE V2 (tokenized mortgages); for those that don't know, this is extremely bullish considering 80% of all fees generated on aave are used to burn LEND supply, furthermore, Aave Limited, is now licensed as an authorized electronic money institution. After a lengthy application process, the authorization was granted in July by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA).

SNX : Synthetix (SNX) also sees its share of attention this week as they lower their Collateralization Ratio from 700%-600%, mostly due to the huge demand for sUSD(snx stablecoin) (highest yielding stablecoin on curve) ; Synthetix also announces the upcoming launch of synthetic futures. Other notable events were a Huobi listing and being added to atomic wallet.
